Dr. Scanlon reduced the fracture, and as the man could not receive prop-er care at the shanty he was sent to Backus hospital, Norwich, on the car leaving Westerly at 6.15, accompanied leaving Westerly at 6.15, accompanied by Superintendent Humphreys of the Pawcatuck Valley street railway company. O'Neill is 62 years old and is a resident of Boston. His right hand was frozen some years ago and is useless, so at the present time O'Neill is perfectly helpless.

For unprofessional conduct in connection with the Warren divorce case, Maximillian Lizotte of Providence, a well known member of the Rhode Island bar and law partner of Albert B. Crafts, formerly of Westerly, has been suspended from the practice of his profession for one year by reason of unprofessional conduct. Detective Marray, who was in the service for the respondent, agreed for the sum of $400 to do some work against his cli-ent for the sum of $400. This agreement was made with a Boston lawyer, and the money was paid over to Mr. Lizotte. Of this amount the detective received only $50 and he asked the court to order the payment of the bal-ance of the sum and from this came the disbarment of Lizotte.

Mr. Lizotte claimed that the money was paid him with the understanding that $200 was for himself and his part-ner, Mr. Crafts, as a retainer, and that the remaining $200 was to be paid the detective if he secured such evidence against Mrs. Warren's character. The court also found that the detective, Murray, was not entitled to an order for the payment of the amount claim-ed by him against the respondent,

The closing of a portion of the Watch Hill road to automobiles while trolley road rebuilding is progressing, has brought to the attention of automobilroad ists the East avenue route to Watch Hill, which is fully as good as the old established route and only a fifth of a mile longer. The East avenue route begins not far from the Hill proper,
is a fine macadam road, well oiled, and is likely to be the means of opening in a new section for summer visand is likely to be the means of opening up a new section for summer visitors who may desire to combine country and seaside life in the good old summer time. So after all, the closing of the Watch Hill road to make way for permanent improvement is not a serious obstacle to automobile parties and may add to the general interties and may add to the general inter-est of the town of Westerly as a sum-

While the road is practically closed to vehicular traffic, the closing consists of a guard at either end of the stretches where the work of rebuildstretches where the work of rebuilding the trolley road is progressing, and teamsters and chauffeurs are warned that the road is in a dangerous condition for public traffic, and that they may drive on at their own risk.
This guard system was adopted for the accommodation of those who happened to reside within the one thousand feet space that is being rebuilt at a time, so that they might drive at a time, so that they might drive direct to and from their homes with the least possible inconvenience, still there are some chauffeurs who butt in and take a chance with the valuable automobiles of their employers, and to show to the contractors that there can be no accommodating discriminating favors given to Westerly residents that cannot be enjoyed by the men from the cities who sit at the steering wheel and toot the horn.

Westerly's baseball team went to Wakefield Saturday, whiched their entertainers, to the tune of 6 to 1, and worked their way into the leadership of the Rhode Island-Connecticut league. The Giennon brothers, Tommy and Billy, showed up finely and did their full share towards winning the game. Score by innings: R.H.E. Westerly, 0 2 0 0 0 0 2 2 0—6 12 5 Carolina, 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 5 4

There was also a 6 to 1 game played in Westerly between the Stonington and White Rock teams in Vose park. Gallivan pitched fine ball for Stonington up to the fifth inning when White Rock secured two hits and assisted by two errors made two runs, and after that Jackie was given miserable support. Score by innings: White Rock 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 7 9 Stonington 0 0 0 0 2 0 4 0 0—6 11 2

A close decision in the seventh inning with the score 1 to 0, helped Wakefield to defeat Mystic in Industrial park by a score of 2 to 1. There was considerable wrangling over the decisions of Umpire Doyle, who is generally conceded to be the most competent umpire in the league. The game was wanted by Mystic, who expected to get into second place, Saturday. The standing of the teams of the league follows:

.666 .538 .538 .461 .461 .333 White Rock

An automobile owned in Westerly and driven by its owner, who has had considerable experience with horseless carriages, was guided Saturday night where automobile never rolled before and probably will never again. Between Wequetequock and Stonington there is a point parallel to the highway where the cars of the Groton and Stonington railroad passes on private property. This Westerly automobile was running along with a westbound car and just before the entrance to the private way was reached the automobile was swarred to the left and run right on to the trolley track and went right on to the trolley track and went bumpity-bump over the ties.

The trolley car was brought to a stop so suddenly that many of the passengers were thrown violently for-ward, but none were injured, but not before the forward end of the car was in close contact with the automobile, the compact being so slight that no damage was done. When about mid-way down the stretch the automobile was stopped and then slowly worked out upon the highway and started back to Westerly under its own power.

MAIN THING IS TO KEEP COOL. Advice for Those Who May Lose Their Way in the Woods.

Let the man who is lost in the woods be very careful not to overexert himself. His chief dangers lie in panic and overexertion, and, though he may be in a great hurry to find shelter, I must warn him to go slowly. Two miles an hour, on an average, through the snow in the woods, is all that a man in his condition will be able to stand without overfatigue and its attendant dangers. overheating and perspiration. By exercising caution, a man may live through a week of what he is undergoing. To make this article brief, we shall suppose that he regains the road by the afternoon of the first day. He doesn't yet know, of course, just where he is. He should examine the tracks of the person who last passed that way. It being afternoon, he must follow the direction taken by the last passing vehicle or team, as shelter will be nearest in that direction. Had it been morning he would have taken the opposite direction, as whoever made the tracks must have come from the place where he obtained shelter the previous night. Outing Magazine.

Prospects for New Industry to Locate Here-School Building Inspected by Great interest has been aroused by the people of Mystic with the view that a new factory is to be built in Mystic and that a good industry will be placed here in the village. The directors of the Specialty Manufacturing company, in which Eli Gledhill and Lemuel J. Coburn are interested, want to locate here, and in all probability will do so, as a good many shares of stock have already been subscribed locally on that condition. This concern has been located in Melrose, Mass, and has been located in Melrose, Mass, and manufacture a combination chair couch and couch bed. The business has so incrased as to warrant them to enlarge the concern. The building which they want to build here is 40 by 200 feet and two stories high. It has not been just decided what will be done, as another place in Somersworth, N. H., has been looked over, but it is hoped Mystic will be chosen. L. J. Coburn has been in Mystic the past few days looking over the matter, and feels quite sure that it, may locate here. The other directors interested besides Mr. Gledhill are J. L. Sackett, the inventor, John O'Donnell, James E. Brown of Melrose, Mass, and L. J. Coburn of Boston.

The concern has an Al rating in

J. Coburn of Boston.

The concern has an AI rating in Dun's and Broadstreet's, and in all the rest of the mercantile agency reports. If the factory should come to Mystic, in all probability it will be located in Industrial place, thus adding another industry in that section.

The defeat vesterday in the besshell. The defeat yesterday in the baseball game at Industrial park for the Mystics by the Wakefield team was a hard one for the local baseball fans to swal-low. The Soul of a Serf. By J. Brecken ridge Ellis. Cloth; ornamental design in gold and ink; full page illustrations. Published by Laird & Lee, Chicago. Price $1.50.

This romance of love and valor among the Angles and Saxons is an intensely dramatic story, recounting thes valorous deeds and impassioned love of Usfrey, a stalwart young Saxon hero, who though but a "ceori" or serf, had dreams of freedom, fame and fortune awaiting him over the sea in serf, had dreams of freedom, fame and fortune awaiting him over the sea in the great western island of Britain. The opening of the story presents the hero deeply in love with Cuthberga, the beautiful ward of the lordly Lilla, the "exidorman" or chieftain of his tribe of Saxons. Usfrey's love for Cuthberga was without her consent or even a knowledge of the existence But Cuthberga was without her consent or even a knoweldge of its existence. But that fact did not in the least dampen the ardor of the optimistic young Saxon, who believed that fate had destined him for some great purpose in life. The scene of the story shifts to Britain, where a number of dramatic and incresting events take place in the wonderful walled cities that were built and abandoned by the Romans. The manners and customs of the early Britains are presented with vividness and lifelike reality, and the characters of the story are so clearly drawn and marked by such real pathos and humor as to win the interest and sympamor as to win the interest and sympa-
